Work History

- 2009-present During the school year, I am employed at Mount Edgecumbe High School. I work seven days a week and tutor two classes daily for four of those days. I am also a Resident Advisor, supervising a dorm for three days a week.
- 2009-2013 During the summer season, April through October, I worked at Sea Mountain Golf Course running the pro-shop and golfing component of the recreational facility. I was in charge of all day-to-day operations, inside and outside the clubhouse, including maintaining equipment, customer relations, supervising staff, keeping track of finances and running special events. I was also the only day waitress and bar tender.
- 2010 Employed by the U.S. Census Bureau to canvas Sitka residents.
- 2007-2009 News Director, reporter, and producer for KRXA-AM, a Northern California radio station. I researched, wrote and broadcast international, national, California and local news; Wall Street business news, local weather and traffic news. I also supervised other KRXA news staff. Broadcast from Sand City, CA. and a home studio in Sitka, AK.
- 2004-2007 News Director, reporter, producer and anchor for the Quality News Network, an international radio news service airing on 1,600 U.S. and overseas broadcast stations, the Internet, and via Podcast. Located in Monterey, CA.
- 1995-1998 Hired as a humanitarian aid worker in Bosnia and Hercegovina by Vermont-based Conflict Resolution Catalysts. I co-managed CRC's community center located in Republika Srpska, a facility that offered onsite education, counseling and other programs for at least 1,000 children and adults weekly. I built the nation's first youth radio station, Radio Balkan. I successfully wrote grants for funding; selected, trained and supervised a staff of 34. I did the same for a nationwide multi-ethnic magazine for high school students, "The Bridge" with a paid staff of 18. I edited, trained and supervised a nationwide, multi-ethnic magazine for youth aged 13 through 25, "Vjreme," sponsored by German universities (staff 23.)

During the same years, I was the foreign editor for Republika Srpska's only independent magazine "The Reporter;" organized three BBC 3-month seminars for professional journalists; wrote feature articles for NATO's nationwide youth magazine

"Mostovi;" and organized and funded the first Serb union of radio broadcasters. I was a commentator for the BBC. I established 18 English-language libraries countrywide.

I also taught creative writing to all four levels of students at the University of Banja Luka as the only foreigner in the Serb university system. I taught 12 semesters with class rosters of approximately 1,400 students weekly.

I wrote stories for the "Juneau Empire" about Bosnia.

While working in Bosnia, my mother was involved in a serious car accident. I returned to California to help in her recovery - hence the gap in my work experience. While caring for her, and during those times in which her health was good, I was employed as:

- * Executive Director for the Democratic Party Headquarters, Monterey County, election of 1998

- * Helped establish and run a Carmel, CA. store - Diggity Dog - which included all facets of retail work from ordering stock to maintaining financial records and supervising staff.

- * Monitored, then supervised, elections for (OSCE) the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe in Bosnia.

- * Evacuated children and the elderly from Republika Srpska to Croatia during the Kosovo War of 1999.

- * Worked at refugee camps in Kukes, Albania and Blace, Macedonia during the NATO war in Kosovo.

and

1981-1983 Reporter for the Juneau Empire. Covered the legislature, politics, education, municipal government, crime, and courts. Also wrote features and a weekly column. Located in Juneau, AK. During the Gulf War, I was temporarily assigned as Managing Editor for the Kenai Clarion, a daily newspaper in Kenai, AK.

1985-1990 Reporter, editor, co-anchor for "The Southeast Report," KJUD-TV's daily television news program, located in Juneau, AK. Also contributed to "Alaska Statewide News," a four-station statewide daily news program broadcast from Anchorage, AK.

In these years, I was given two leaves-of-absence to produce and anchor two government-funded 30-minute daily television programs, broadcast statewide, focusing exclusively on the Alaska State Legislature. Located in Juneau and Anchorage, AK. (Sessions of 1986 and 1987)

- 1981- 1995 Volunteered as a producer and board operator for a weekly jazz music show on public radio KTOO-FM. I was also elected to the station's Board of Directors and participated in many fundraising efforts.
- 1983-1985 Producer, reporter and anchor for public television KTOO-TV's daily television news program, "The Evening Edition." Supervised staff of 7. Located in Juneau, AK.
- 1978-1981 Helped found public radio station KBBI-AM. Located in Homer, AK. Volunteered for various music and news shifts. Developed programming and training. Contributed to fundraising.
- 1976-1981 Began as a columnist, then promoted to reporter and ultimately Managing Editor for the Homer News, a weekly newspaper located in Homer, AK.

During these years I wrote three non-fiction books, "Heartbeat: World Eskimo Indian Olympics," "Alaska Wildlife Viewing Guide," and "Juneau Portrait II." I also freelanced articles for various Alaska newspapers and magazines and national magazines "Fineline," and "National Fisherman's Journal."

I have received various state and regional awards for news reporting, editorials, arts criticism, sports reporting, and feature writing. Also one national award (first place, sports writing, National Newspaper Association.) I was the first Alaska representative for the Radio-Television News Directors Association.

Other

I have successfully written grants for myself and the organizations for which I worked. Granting agencies include the Alaska Humanities Forum, Alaska State Arts Council, the U.S. Agency for International Development, the European Community Humanitarian Organization, the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, the British Broadcasting Corporation, the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, the William Mott Foundation, the Soros Foundation and others.

In 1975, I worked on the Alaska pipeline in Livengood for 11 months.

In Sitka, I am an on-going volunteer for the Sitka Red Cross, the Sitka City-Borough Local Emergency Planning Commission, and KCAW-FM. I am a seasonal volunteer for the Sitka Classical Music Festival.

I have extensive experience with computers and various software – including those used in TV and radio broadcasting – photographic equipment, newspaper layout equipment, and gear used in radio and television editing and directing.

Foreign languages include serviceable French and Serbo-Croatian.

Upon request: references, CDs of my radio reports, and clips of my print work.
