Section 3: Violations and Charges- Letter of Explanation for Violations

Dear Amco,

This letter will serve as my explanation for violation type Delayed Payment in reference to my MJ-20 application renewal for 2020. There are causative factors for the receipt for this notice.

- The primary reason for my receipt of this notice is the same as anyone else who has received this notice, an unfair tax burden levied on the growers of marijuana in the state of Alaska. This should come as no surprise since it has widely reported in Newspapers across the country that include: US News and Word Report, The Chicago Tribune, and Alaska Dispatch News, etc.. The problem with this tax structure is twofold:
 - Unlike in other industries, where the manufacturer, wholesaler, and retailer would share the burden by each pay a percentage of their sales in taxes, the structure for marijuana taxes in Alaska burdens ONLY the marijuana grower with a flat tax. Like any other agricultural industry, the marijuana industry is subject to disease and pestilence that can affect crop yield. If I am unable to obtain a yield that makes my business profitable due to any of these factors the percentage of my sales that I pay to taxes increases. This can be a heavy burden for a new business that is also trying to pay rent, payroll, etc. Compound the taxes with this addition of interest and penalties and this can be devastating to a business.
 - In other agricultural businesses that are affected by decreased crop yields due to weather, pestilence, or disease the grower would compensate for his/her decreased yields by increasing the price of his crop. I am unable to compensate for my losses in yield by increasing my prices because the State of Alaska still maintains a thriving underground market that limits how much marijuana can be sold for in the retail market. Therefore, this limits the amount that I can sell my product for.
